

A TERRIBLE TRAGEDY

AL WATSON OF RALEIGH SHOTS HIS WIFE AND HIMSELF

Our Governor Takes a New Departure in Politics—Queer Political Rumor—Statement of Louisville Dispensary—Treasurer Worth Does Not Explain—Death of Judge G. V. Strong—Strength of Minority Populist—Receptions at the Governor's Mansion

Messenger Bureau, Park Hotel, Raleigh, N. C., October 11.

A terrible double crime was committed in the northern part of Raleigh at 6:45 o'clock this morning. Al Watson, son of Engineer G. H. Watson, who lost his life in the railway collision near Rockingham last year, shot his wife and then blew out his own brains. He was a machinist at the Seaboard Air Line repair shops here and was married July 16th last. He and his wife were quite young. He was drinking yesterday and was very quarrelsome. He became angry with her because she reproached him for drinking. Her little sister, Katie Pearce, aged 13 years, was in the house last night when Watson threw his wife violently to the floor. He then left but returned, and it seemed there was a reconciliation. But early this morning the little girl heard her sister crying. She said she was going to leave and would kill herself. He said, "I will kill you before you go." "Do so," she replied, "and then you will be hanged." He said, "I will kill you and myself." The girl ran to call help and re-entered the room Watson threw his wife on the bed and shot her in the side, then stood up and blew out his brains. As he fell, the dying woman dragged herself from the bed and crawled to his side. He died at 9:20 o'clock.

[The Associated Press last night furnished the following account of the horrible tragedy: On the 15th day of last April Albert L. Watson, then 21 years old, and Ada F. Pierce, 18 years old, were married. Watson was a prominent young mechanic and commanded a good salary. The young bride was beautiful in person and in character. Today the young husband lies dead and the young wife seriously wounded at their cottage home in this city, both victims of a tragedy which has created a sensation all over the town.

Watson has for some weeks been drinking and on yesterday he went home intoxicated. He continued drinking despite the pleadings of his young wife, who finally began chiding him with his conduct.

Early this morning he began drinking again, although he had not fully recovered from his drunkenness of yesterday. The young wife was almost beside herself. She begged and pleaded with him, but without avail, and finally started to leave the room.

"Where are you going?" he asked. "Anywhere," she answered.

Her young sister came in about that time and tried to smooth things over, begging her brother-in-law and her sister to be quiet.

"I think I will kill you both and then myself," said the husband. Five minutes later he drew a pistol which he had had concealed, shot his wife and then shot himself. He died in a few minutes. The young wife still lingers between life and death.

Among the many unique distinctions belonging to Governor Russell is that of being the only republican to bring an accusation of excessive zeal for the party against a government employee. It is said that at a meeting of the inner circle of Russellites, held at Wilmington last week, at which the governor presided, it was determined, at his suggestion, to prefer charges of pernicious activity against a gentleman in the civil service, who was suspected of aspiring to federal appointment. It was intended to keep the scheme a dead secret until the bomb should explode in the hands of the individual; but the walls had ears, and so the story is out. It is understood that the intended victim of this plot says that his pernicious activity consisted in voting for Russell last year, sin for which he, in common with many other republicans, has repented.

A queer political rumor developed today, being nothing less than that there is a movement to have Judge Dick, of Greensboro, of the western United States district court, resign, and that Senator Pritchard be elected to his place, which the senator desires this position.

The Cumnock coal mine was sold Friday, and Saturday the commissioners, John W. Hinsdale, A. H. Smith, and B. Womack, filed their report with the clerk of the United States court, recommending confirmation. The property brought $60,000. The Cumnock mine, representing the first mortgage bondholders, was the buyer.

The state agricultural department today received a notice to translocate a company of stock and other animals, issued by E. P. Niles, state veterinarian of Virginia, raising the quarantine against the cattle. It says that the order of September 20th, quarantining all North Carolina cattle is revoked, because the state of North Carolina has taken steps to rigidly enforce the quarantine rules and regulations of that state, and that the introduction of tick infested cattle into Virginia will not be repeated; and also because the western North Carolina owners have formed themselves into an association to guard against quarantine regulations.

The statement of the first quarter's business of the Louisville liquor dispensary is not a good one. The gross receipts were $2,376.65, and the net profit only $177.66.

Governor Russell does not appear to like Friday as "hangman's day," for he deprives Ed. Purvis, the sick murderer of Flagman Blackwell to Wednesday, November 17th.

Moses G. Todd, who is the leader of the Mormonism in this county, was educated for the ministry at Wake Forest by Hepzibah Baptist church. His son has now gone to Utah to become a "missionary."

State Treasurer Worth has thus far failed to explain how he lent the penitentiary superintendent $15,000 of state funds. There is no law for the loan. It appears that the widow of Bill Nye lost $8,000, all she had, in the failure of the First National bank at Asheville.

A very large gold nugget was found this week in Montgomery county. It weighs several pounds.

It is announced that the republicans in the Piedmont and mountain section are "sick unto death" over Governor Russell.

Ex-Judge George V. Strong, who yesterday morning of parades, aged 68 years. He was a lawyer of great ability and was for years a partner of the late Chief Justice W. H. Smith. His funeral was held this afternoon. His title of judge was acquired when in 1872 he held the criminal court of Wake.

The trustees of the state university meet here tomorrow, to award the contract for the construction of the alumni building.

The bonds of the $50,000 street improvement issued for Raleigh arrived today. They are 5 per cents. There are many bids for this.

The supreme court tomorrow takes up the appeals from the Third district.

Little Julia Jackson Christian, daughter of Mr. W. H. Christian, and granddaughter of General Stonewall Jackson, has scarlet fever here. The case was discovered Friday and is completely isolated. Her little brother, Stonewall Jackson Christian, is not in the city, but is with Mrs. D. H. Hill.

It is learned from a leading minority populist that a meeting of that party will be held at the state library at 7:30 o'clock p. m., October 21st. It is asserted that those populists and their friends are numbered by thousands in the state, and that they stand ready for action. This meeting is to be held for purposes of conference and consultation. It is no doubt true that the minority populists are strong against Senator Butler. He is taunting and denouncing them as having been liberally bought by republican money and promises, and induced to vote for Pritchard for the senate.

It is now said that Marshall Mott, who was here yesterday, wants to succeed Pritchard as senator in case Judge Dick, of the federal court resigns, and Pritchard succeeds him. Mott last winter greatly desired to be senator. The desire has not left him.

A fine rain fell last night. It was really the first in nearly two months. It appears to have been quite general in the state.

Mrs. Russell will hereafter hold regular receptions at the executive mansion.

The Campaign in New York

New York, October 8.—The most sensational event of the day in the municipal campaign was the action taken tonight by the Henry George campaign committee. The Citizens' Union county ticket in New York county, the McLaughlin democratic county ticket in Kings county, the Mullen democratic ticket in Richmond, and the Madden democratic county ticket in Queens, are all to be endorsed at 11 o'clock. It was said that the assembly and aldermanic and Borough tickets of these same organizations had also been endorsed but this could not be verified.

The Georgists started in to name a city ticket of their own, and at 11 o'clock it was reported that Charles Frederick Adams, for president of the council, was the only man chosen. It is understood that he will withdraw as a candidate for the court of appeals against Judge Alton B. Parker, the regular democratic candidate.

It is said the conclusions reached are the work of Tom L. Johnson and some of the members of the campaign committee. What the effect will be is hard to forecast, but tonight it looks as if it would demoralize Mr. George's forces. The United democracy, which first nominated George, declared tonight, through its leaders, that it was done with the George movement. Secretary Stover, of the democracy, was equally outspoken and said his organization would knife George if the ticket was forced on it. The populists seemed to take the same view.

Later it was said that Charles Frederick Adams has not been chosen for president of the council, although he probably will be. It developed and was admitted by Citizens' Union leaders and Georgists, that there was a deal on between the two. The Citizens' Union yesterday circulating petitions with the rooster, or George, on the top, to get the George ticket on the ballot. In return for this the George managers endorse the Citizens' Union ticket in this county.

The campaign committee, in explanation of their action in making the endorsement mentioned, say that they do not fear the threatened defection of the united democracy, headed by James O'Brien and the democratic alliance.

The united democracy, they say, has been dealing with Tammany for several days and they are glad to get rid of it. They say the alliance, while justly angry, will fall into line. But whether it does or not they profess not to care, saying the George movement is not so deeply rooted that no organization can hurt it. Had the alliance and united democracy been able to agree on a ticket, the action of the campaign committee might have been very different. It says the fighting leaders left no doubt of their opinion.

The registration, which began today, is unusually large for a non-presidential year. In Brooklyn the number who registered today was 75,013 as compared with 59,888 on the first day of registration in 1895 and 90,185 on the first day in 1896. The total registration in the territory comprised in the Greater New York was 199,056.

J. C. Berry, one of the best known citizens of Spencer, Mo., testifies that he cured himself of the worst kind of piles by using a few boxes of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. He had been troubled with piles for over thirty years and had used many different kinds of so-called cures; but DeWitt's was the one that cured him and he will verify this statement if any one wishes to write him. Argument in the Luertger Case Begun Chicago, October 11.—The final arguments have commenced in the Luertger trial and the case will be given to the jury by the end of the present week. This at least, is the expectation of the attorneys. The defense expected today to take most of the session of the court in offering rebuttal evidence, but some of its witnesses were not present when their names were called and it was decided that the case might as well go on. Assistant State's Attorney McEwen began the opening address for the state and he will speak for two days at least. He will be followed by Attorney Phalan, for the defense, and Attorney Vincent will close the closing for the state, which will be made by State's Attorney Deenen. In his speech today Mr. McEwen claimed that the death of Mrs. Luertger had been fully established.

Athens, Ga., October 11.—The mysterious attack upon white women on the streets of Athens, which created such a furore of excitement several weeks ago, were repeated last night and the alleged offender is now behind the bars. Mrs. Katie Thomas, who was leaving the First Presbyterian church, was attacked by a negro. She succeeded in warding off his blows with her umbrella. Two posers were organized and Will Henry Coleman, 18 years old, was arrested. He was brought back to town by a circuitous route to avoid a possibility of mob violence and lodged in jail. He was identified this morning by Mrs. Thomas as the negro who attempted to strike her. A lynching is freely talked of.

Bank Officials Indicted

Lynchburg, Va., October 11.—The grand jury today reported three indictments against Thomas F. Stearnes, cashier of the defunct Farmers' bank here, on charges of making false returns to the state auditor.

Later tonight the grand jury adjourned after having found three indictments against James H. Hancock, president; B. E. Hughes, vice president; W. B. Roberts, a director and T. E. Connell, acting cashier for receiving deposits knowing the bank to be insolvent.

Dangerous Lard

Lard at its best is unwholesome, indigestible. It makes food shortened with it soft and greasy. At its worst, it is unhealthful and filled with dangerous bacteria. It is condemned by every medical and culinary authority.

Every food scientist agrees that vegetable oil is nutritive, digestible, and free from disease germs.

Healthful COTTOLENE

is composed mainly of refined vegetable oil. It is nutritious and palatable. Food shortened with or fried in it can be eaten by anyone without harmful results.

The genuine is sold everywhere in one to ten pound yellow tins, with our trade mark—Cottolene—on the head in cotton-print letters on every tin. Not guaranteed if sold in any other way. Made only by THE N. K. FAIRBANK COMPANY, Chicago, St. Louis, New York, Montreal.

The Round Cotton Bale

According to the New Orleans Times-Democrat the cylindrical cotton bale is not destined to work the revolution which has been very generally predicted.

It will be remembered that the round bale was exhibited at Cotton States and International exposition, and attracted much attention. At that time there was a contest over the patent and it was asserted that as soon as this revolution in the cotton trade would rapidly displace the square bale.

Those who control the manufacture of the round bale expected to see it used for a great part of the present crop, but for some reason it does not seem to take.

A few days ago a cylindrical bale of cotton was exhibited at the office of Mr. Parker, a New Orleans cotton factor. The Times-Democrat declares that the verdict of those who examined the bale was practically unanimous against it. It says:

"There were cotton factors, merchants, stevedores, men, cotton pressmen, cotton mill men, screwmen, stevedores, and many others interested in cotton who went in there to inspect it and of the 500 people, whom Mr. Parker says saw the cotton, not one of them in his presence gave it a favorable opinion."

The suggestion of this style of cotton bale, taking the place of the square has, of course, created a great deal of interest among local cotton people. If it ever becomes the style in this section of the country, as one of the cotton men said yesterday, it will not only do away with local cotton factories, local buyers, local compresses, and screwmen, but will close up all the country compresses, obviating the necessity of having country buyers—in fact, revolutionize the whole cotton business and paralyze those branches indicated above. It is probable that the backers and promoters of the round bale buy their cotton direct from the consumer in the field, thus doing away with all middle men. The cotton men here say that the system would result eventually in the trust people dictating terms to the producer of cotton. They might give probably a better price than any one else for a year or two, but as soon as they got control of the staple they would dictate prices and terms to the farmer.

"Mr. Vincent, of the firm of Vincent & Hayne, who was present, said that the adoption of that kind of cotton baling would throw out of business all the 200 compresses of the south, and would mean a revolution—not only a revolution in a business sense, but a revolution in which the people of the country will rise up in arms against the closing of a business that now gives employment to so many working people."

The bale is not well pressed—nothing like the square bale. If adopted, it would do away with the compress, the cotton factors, screwmen, etc. "The cotton men have not made any plans yet for a concerted action against the invader of the south's greatest industry, but they will do so. There is plenty of time, they say, but something must and shall be done to avert the threatened ruin of southern planters and the people whose interests are identical with them."

The adverse comments of the New Orleans cotton dealers will not be taken as final.

If the round bale can be used to greater advantage than the rectangular bale, if cotton can be packed more closely in it and without injury, if it is cheaper to produce it from fire, and if it is cheaper than the present method, all of the points of superiority are confidently claimed for it, the round bale will surely make its way into very large use.

It is evident, however, that its prospects have received a severe blow in New Orleans—Atlanta Constitution.

You can't afford to risk your life by allowing a cold to develop into pneumonia or consumption. Instant relief and a certain cure are afforded by One Minute Cough Cure. R. R. Bellamy.

Senator Money Appointed to Senator George's Unexpired Term Jackson, Miss., October 11.—Governor McLaurin wired the Associated Press tonight from his home in Brandon that he had appointed Senator-elect Herndon de Soto Money as United States senator to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Senator J. Z. George, whose term expires in 1898.

Senator George, before his death having declined to again become a candidate for the high office, and election for the regular term was necessary and the last legislature, after a long dead-lock, elected Mr. Money for the regular term beginning in 1898.

Yellow Fever at Baltimore Quarantine

Baltimore, October 11.—Emil Grann, a fireman on the Norwegian steamer Somerhill, Captain Davis, which arrived here on Saturday last, has developed a case of yellow fever, contracted in Santiago de Cuba, from which port the vessel sailed. He has been placed in the hospital at quarantine. Aside from a case of malarial fever, there is no other sickness aboard the steamer, which will be thoroughly fumigated and detained at quarantine for several days before being allowed to unload her cargo of iron ore.

A Steamer Wrecked Off Hatteras

Norfolk, October 11.—The steamship Hesperides is ashore on Outer Diamond shoals, off Cape Hatteras, and the vessel will be a total loss with her cargo of pig iron. She was bound from Cuba to Baltimore and struck the shoals during a dense fog while being about the coast so thick that the crew were not taken off until they had been clinging to the wreck for several hours. There is no hope of saving the ship, although tugs will attempt the task.

Salt Water in the Cape Fear

All the saw mills and steam plants on the river as far up as Hilton, and even the waterworks plant, are having no end of trouble with their boilers on account of salt water in the river. The river is lower than it has been for years, and the salt water of the ocean has come up and taken the place of the fresh water. The water in the mains and pipes of the waterworks company throughout the city is also salty and rendered unfit for drinking and domestic use.

The water in the river as far up as the city never gets salty unless there is a very severe drought or a heavy southeast storm that blows the water up the river.

The drought is so severe and the river water so salty that the Atlantic Coast Line has had great difficulty to get water for the locomotives. They were forced by necessity to take the waste from Messrs. W. E. Worth & Co.'s ice factory. The Wilmington Seacoast railroad has also been in a strait, men having to go off into the ponds in the woods and fill the tender with buckets.

There was only three tenths of a foot of water in the Cape Fear river at Fayetteville yesterday, according to the report of the weather bureau.

On motion, Mr. W. E. Worth was called to the chair and Mr. D. C. Whitte was made secretary pro tem.

It was announced that the election of officers of the association was in order, and thereupon the following were elected for the ensuing term:

The secretary was instructed to call on the merchants and secure their membership in the association.

After several matters had been discussed, the board of directors adjourned to meet at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

The Place for Hunters

Mr. S. C. Potts, of Lake Waccamaw, now has a party of sportsmen, Messrs. Harris Smith, Captain Barnes and others, from Monroe, N. C., now pleasantly located at Camp Potts, on Lake Waccamaw river. Week before last they killed two large bears and two large deer. Last week they killed one large bear and one deer. The hunting grounds also abound in thousands of squirrels. Mr. Potts' elegant steam launch furnishes the transportation for these sportsmen.

Mr. Percy Gray, the bear hunter from Greensboro, is likely to come down for a hunt before long.

A Schooner Disabled by Storm

Norfolk, Va., October 11.—The schooner Sallie Purnell Beswick, from the North Carolina sounds to New York with lumber, arrived in Hampton Roads today, leaking and in distress. She had eighteen inches of water in her hold and in the two successive gales she encountered off Hatteras, she lost some 40,000 feet of her cargo of lumber. Her rigging was also badly damaged and she lost several sails. She will rest in Hampton Roads before proceeding northward.

Senator Tillman Ill

Columbia, S. C., October 11.—Senator Tillman arrived in Columbia this afternoon from Trenton, his home. He is suffering from catarrhal jaundice and came here for treatment by physicians who had attended him during his term as governor. His condition is not serious at present, though he evidently apprehends that it might become so. He was too ill this evening to receive callers.

Senorita Cisneros in New York

New York, October 11.—The Herald tomorrow will say: Senorita Evangelina Cosio y Cisneros, the Cuban girl who escaped from Calisa de Recogidas, in Havana on Wednesday night last, arrived in this city yesterday morning. American friends accompanied her by train from New Orleans. On reaching Jersey City, Miss Cisneros was taken in a closed carriage to the headquarters of the Cuban sympathizers in this city at 56 New Street, where she was joyfully received.

The Tug Clyde Burned

Key West, Fla., October 11.—The revenue cutter McLane, Captain Reynolds, arrived this evening with the crew of the tug Clyde, which was burned to the water's edge and sank. The crew were ashore at Tavernier key. The captain was on board but asleep. He jumped overboard and swam nearly a mile ashore. No cause is assigned for the fire. Everything was lost.

Gigantic Strike

London, October 11.—The secretary of the Federated Trades, comprising thirty important industries, announces that the executive committee has definitely decided to call out all its members, in sympathy with the struggle of the engineers against their employers, on Friday next, when it is estimated that a total of 400,000 men will be out of work on account of the great labor dispute.
